

Helen J. Robinson served as President of the Bethesda Chapter at the National Institutes of Health (NIH) from 2008-2010 and as a Regional Representative for the DC Metro Region from 2010-2012. She served as the DC Metro Region Co-Chair for Persons with Disabilities and is currently on the Council of Advisors for the FEW Foundation for Education and Training. During the last five years, Helen created and executed Prom Dress Giveaways for disadvantaged teens in the Washington, DC, area and serviced over 400 participants. She also organized a Prom Dress Giveaway as a member of the Youth Outreach Training Program Committee for the 2011 National Training Program in Philadelphia.

Helen has an Associate's Degree in Business from Prince George's Community College and was appointed by the Governor to serve as a member of the Advisory Council on Arthritis and Related Diseases for the State of Maryland. She currently works at NIH as a Program Review Coordinator/Office Manager for the Vaccine Research Center and serves on the NIH Federal Women's Program Network Committee. Helen and her family reside in Landover, Maryland, and her daughter, Desiree, is also a member of FEW.